INTRODUCTION

I want to be very careful with what I communicate here because I really need to present a balance. We have a treasure in our earthen vessels. This is a reality for every believer. Once he asked Christ into His life, the Christian became the habitation of God. The Spirit moved in, and the Holy Spirit shall never move out. That is the great comfort we find in Hebrews 13:5: "For he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee."

The treasure that God puts in us is not of us, nor is it from us. It is from Him, and its purpose is to reveal Christ to the world. The excellency of the power that we live in must belong to Him. It cannot be of us. One day, God will change these mortal bodies—every one of which was conceived in iniquity. Our glorified bodies will not be rooted in and poisoned by sin and death. We shall be raised in incorruption, thanks to the resurrection power of Jesus Christ.

God has chosen to reveal Himself through people. I have always found this an amazing mystery. Earthen vessels crack up. People have problems. Backaches, earaches, sore joints, sprains and bruises: These things let us know just how frail and temporary these bodies of flesh are. Even seemingly young people struggle with the aches and pains that come during the courses of our lives.

God, however, has given us something that ministers to these bodies of death. That something is song. In His infinite understanding of humans, who were first formed from the dust of the earth, the Lord ordained songs to touch something in every one of us. Listen carefully the next time you are in an elevator. The background music that you hear probably sounds very, very familiar. The rhythm gets you; the beat and the notes trigger a train of thoughts. Before you know it, the words of what you thought was a long, lost song are coming back to you.

In this booklet, we will examine just how important songs are to our hearts and our minds. My prayer is that by the end of reading this booklet, you will have a new song in your heart—something precious from the Lord that will keep you and comfort you in the storms of life.

Chapter One

OVERCOMING THE BODY OF DEATH

“Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not;

“But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man’s conscience in the sight of God.

“But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:

“In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

“For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus’ sake.

“For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

"But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

"We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

"Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

"Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body" (2 Corinthians 4:1-10).

Death is at work in us. Why? It is so that the life of God might shine out of us. God really wants to get the natural part of us out of the way so that His supernatural power might move in, unhindered and unfettered. Certain situations that we are allowed to endure are used by God to wear away the thorns and thistles that spring from our flesh.

I can remember counseling one man who had married a woman who became tremendously obsessive. She washed the bathroom doorknob dozens of times a day. She flushed the toilet again and again, even though there was no reason to.

"I don't know why God has allowed this," the man started out during our session. "Why must I put up with this?"

"God is delivering you unto death," I said.

"Why doesn't this go away from her? I think this marriage was great mistake."

"Really?" I responded. "If you weren't delivered to death in this marriage, then God would have delivered you unto it some other way. Your boss or your health would become troubling issues."

"Well, what can I do?" the man asked.

"Let God give you a song in this night season."

That was the counsel I got for this man from the Lord. He went out from the office and began to search the Scriptures. He came love the book of Psalms. There, among those one hundred and fifty poems, this man found the words of people just like him. Morning and evening, he began to read and sing to the Lord. It gave him great comfort, and he has become a great minister to his wife, who is getting delivered. Victory is in his heart, and his love toward his wife is making a difference.

When we are put into a place where people rub us the wrong way, we learn how to die to ourselves and become alive unto God.

The Sounds of Victory

"Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song unto the LORD, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the LORD, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

“The LORD is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father’s God, and I will exalt him.

“The LORD is a man of war: the LORD is his name” (Exodus 15:1-2).

This song is the first song that was ever recorded in the Bible since the day Adam came out of the Garden. Great victories come with songs. Israel was down by the Red Sea. The Egyptian army bore down on the people of God, who seemed to be trapped between the water and the Pharaoh’s chariots with no way of escape.

God instructed Moses to tell the people to “stand still and see the salvation of the Lord.” The waters were parted, Israel walked through on dry ground, and the sea swallowed up the Egyptian soldiers with their horse-drawn chariots when it closed over them as they pursued the people of God. Miriam, Moses’ sister, then picked up an instrument and began singing. The people of the nation lifted up their voices, and there was singing and dancing before the Lord.

I have seen some of the dances that the Jewish folks do. They are modest and they are not sensual. This celebration was an expression of praise to God and to His power, which is the reason for all of our triumphs.

In the book of Judges, Deborah and Barak sang out after the defeat of the Canaanites (see Judges 5). Certainly, there is nothing like a good, loud song to cap off a day of victory.

Chapter Two

MUSIC MAKES THINGS HAPPEN

“And from thence they went to Beer: that is the well whereof the LORD spake unto Moses, Gather the people together, and I will give them water.

“Then Israel sang this song, Spring up, O well; sing ye unto it:

“The princes digged the well, the nobles of the people digged it, by the direction of the law-giver, with their staves. And from the wilderness they went to Mattanah” (Numbers 21:16-18).

“And Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the LORD, worshipping the LORD.

“And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

“And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said,

Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; Believe in the LORD your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

“And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the LORD, and that should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army, and to say, Praise the LORD; for his mercy endureth for ever.

“And when they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Judah; and they were smitten.

“For the children of Ammon and Moab stood up against the inhabitants of mount Seir, utterly to slay and destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy another.

“And when Judah came toward the watch tower in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude, and, behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

“And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoil of them, they found among them in abundance both riches with the dead bodies, and precious jewels, which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away: and they were three days in gathering of the spoil, it was so much” (1 Chronicles 20:18-25).

The nation of Israel was in need of water. It was time for a song, “Spring up, O well.” The people began to sing, the princes did some digging, and there was a well of water.

Sometimes when I am in the pulpit, I have to start singing, and I’ve been know to make up some pretty good songs. When I sing, the water starts to flow. The words come a little easier. Now, my voice is not what it once was when I was a country music “star.” I get a little hoarse now and then. One man came to church and heard me sing a little song during my message. He was quite upset, but not at the quality of my voice. His problem was that he wanted me to do more preaching. Well, I told him it was just what God wanted me to do at that moment. That man calmed down, and he’s still coming out to church! Now, that’s a great little story, isn’t it? But here is my point:

Songs can make things happen in the power of the Spirit.

The Jehoshaphat story gives us a great picture of where singers fit into the plan and purpose of God. The singers were the front-line warriors in that battle. That is what a good worship team can be for a Spirit-filled assembly. When the singers go out and praise the beauty of God’s holiness, the enemy has to flee. Songs can usher in the intensity of the presence of the Lord, and it does wonders.

The army of the enemy had an overwhelming advantage over the army of Israel. There was no way that this victory would come unless God did something amazing. I can just imagine the discussion that might have gone on among some of Israel’s battlefield leaders.

“Who’s going first?”

“The singers!”

“Are you serious?”

“Godly serious,” said the king.

The singing did the fighting for the nation. After hearing the songs, the enemy soldiers turned against each other and the slaughter began. When the dust settled, three days’ worth of spoil was left for the children of Israel to carry away from a field where they never had to fight.

God has never lost a fight. He has always done right by His people. He fights their battles for them.

The Sound of Freedom

“Then shalt thou cause the trumpet of the jubile to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land.

“And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you; and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family.

“A jubile shall that fiftieth year be unto you: ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes in it of thy vine undressed.

“For it is the jubile; it shall be holy unto you: ye shall eat the increase thereof out of the field.

“In the year of this jubile ye shall return every man unto his possession” (Leviticus 20:9-13).

A good, solid trumpet blast also means a lot of things in the Bible. Here, in Leviticus 20, the horn announced that it is the Year of Jubilee. Every fifty years, Israel was instructed to celebrate their freedom from Egypt. In this year, every man was to return to his possession. Lost things were restored. It was a year of rest. All debts were forgiven. Every captive was set free. This year represented what God does for a lifetime in those who receive Jesus Christ.

Christ Jesus paid the debt He did not owe. As for me, I owed a debt I could not pay. His blood washed our sins away. That’s a great song in itself. Now we sing new songs. We sing songs that exalt the blood of the Lamb. We have been washed clean. All of our obligations have been fulfilled in Him.

Jesus is our Jubilee, as He Himself read from Isaiah 61 in Luke 4:18-19:

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,

“To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.”

In that “year,” with the moments of His life on earth, Jesus Christ made us acceptable in Him. He took upon His body the sins of the world. He hung upon the Cross and became sin for us. Because of perfect holiness, the Father cannot look upon sin. Therefore, for the first time in all of eternity, the Son of God willingly endured as the Father turned His face away from Him for a period of darkness. All of these things He did to make it so that we can sing a new song unto the Lord, a song of redemption and transformation.

Chapter Three
MAKE A JOYFUL NOISE

“Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the LORD JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation.

“Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation.

“And in that day shall ye say, Praise the LORD, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

“Sing unto the LORD; for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.

“Cry out and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee” (Isaiah 12:2-6).

“Sing unto the LORD, all the earth; shew forth from day to day his salvation.

“Declare his glory among the heathen; his marvellous works among all nations.

“For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised: he also is to be feared above all gods.

“For all the gods of the people are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.

“Glory and honour are in his presence; strength and gladness are in his place.

“Give unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and strength.

“Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness” (1 Chronicles 16:23-29).

In Psalm 100, the people of God are told to come into the house of God with a joyful noise. That is such a great thing. God wants to hear the songs of His people, even if their voices are not so good. This is great passage for a pastor to use when he is encouraging people to get into the choir. A couple dozen universal voices can come together nicely and make quite a joyful sound unto God when they have the right leader. Anyone who feels led to join the choir should be consistent and get instruction and glorify God.

As we have seen, singing brought water out of the rock. It delivered the nation from the infections and diseases of the enemy.

Even the enemies of Israel recognized just how important the songs were to the people of God. In Psalm 137, the Babylonian captors tried to get them to sing.

“By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.

“We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.

“For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song; and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.

“How shall we sing the LORD’S song in a strange land?” (Psalm 137:1-4).

Melodies in the Heart

The Lord has always communicated the importance of songs. He knows that they mean so much to us as people. Look at what the Spirit inspired the apostle Paul to write to the Colossians:

“Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

“And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

“And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.

“Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

“And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him” (Colossians 3:13-17).

Singing songs is way to solidify the words of wisdom in our hearts. If you read on in Colossians 3, this passage implies that this kind of singing within us will help us to love our spouses and to submit to them. It can help children to be obedient to their parents, and it can help fathers to love their children with gentleness and kindness.

In 1 Chronicles 15, David assembled the Levites and set up rotations of singers who would praise the Lord before the ark of the Covenant. David’s son Solomon followed up on this instruction and gathered groups of singers that were paid to bring songs before the congregation and before the Lord (see 2 Chronicles 5:11-14).

After Israel’s time of backsliding and captivity, Nehemiah led in the rebuilding of the city of Jerusalem. The singers were restored to their place of participation in the temple services.

“For in the days of David and Asaph of old there were chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.

“And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, every day his portion: and they sanctified holy things unto the Levites; and the Levites sanctified them unto the children of Aaron” (Nehemiah 12:46-47).

CONCLUSION

“Sing unto the LORD a new song; for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory.

“The LORD hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

“He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

“Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise.

“Sing unto the LORD with the harp; with the harp, and the voice of a psalm.

“With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the LORD, the King.

“Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

“Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together

“Before the LORD; for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity” (Psalm 98:1-9).

I believe that God enjoys it when we just make up new songs to sing to him. If you get a new car today, sing to the Lord—“I got a new car today, thank the Lord.” Perhaps, your marriage is going through a new honeymoon time. Sing to the Lord about it! “God has made my marriage new, Hallelujah.” Reconciliation is a cause for celebration. Get before God and let your voice go wild. David danced before the Lord, and likewise we can sing with all of our might before the Lord. Remember, He loves the joyful noises that we make to Him. Of course, if you are little embarrassed about people seeing or hearing you, get to someplace where you can be alone and sing to the Lord.

God is worthy of our praise. Praise Him for all of His Creation, including your voice. We might as well get in practice because, from what I read in Revelation, we are going to be doing some singing for all of eternity. The songs we sing there will be beyond new; they will be eternal melodies. And the great thing about it is that heaven and earth and sky will all be in harmony in making a sound unto God.

“And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God

Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints” (Revelation 15:3).

God Really Cares For You

Jesus loves you deeply. However, the fact that all have sinned separates us from God (Romans 3:23; 6:23). Still, God cares for you and He provides a way to share His love with you.

Jesus Christ's love for man was so great that He came and died on the cross for all the sins of mankind. He shed His blood for you so you can be forgiven and have eternal life.

The only thing He requires of you is to come to Him in simple faith, trusting His character and love for you and accepting Him as your Savior. "Whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Acts 2:21).

Simply pray, "Dear Jesus, I know I am a sinner. I receive you as my personal Savior. Thank you for loving me so much that you died for me so I can have eternal life with you. Amen."

He promises that He will never stop loving you and that He will never leave nor forsake you (Hebrews 13:5). Develop your relationship with Him by reading the Bible, praying, and attending a good Bible-believing church.
